

CLC April Board Report

April has been no exception at CLC as we begin to prepare for our amazing grads. We have been working as a team to help our students prepare for graduation, whether that is working one on one on assignments, looking into post secondary fundings, or having Natasha from NVIT come in to work on education planner bc with them to make applying to post secondary that much easier.

We don't forget about the most exciting part for a lot of our graduates, prom. We had decorated the welcome room as a pop up boutique, with dresses from the fairy god mother closet. We aim to make students feel special at CLC, trying to bring the magic the best we can.

Our students are working on their earth science, outdoor ed, and active living. To meld these courses together I had arranged for the students to do a 2-day tour of Shackan Plant Nursery where we were able to tour the green houses, practice transplanting, and harvest black cotton wood seeds. This was an amazing opportunity as they got to learn about the different native species in the Nicola valley, tradition medicines of the nlakapmux people, and experience the whole process of the plant restoration work right from seed.
